Hickory Run Camp Order May Be Changed

REPRESENTATIVES of the Hickory Run Camping Assn. were informed Monday by Secretary of Forests and Waters, Maurice Goddard that means would be sought whereby an order limiting tenancy of camping sites would be suspended or modified.

11-Year-Old Kills Brother

BELLEfonte, Pa. (AP)—An 11-year-old Bellefonte boy has admitted to state police he accidentally shot his younger brother to death Monday night while playing with a deer rifle.

Trooper Michael Mutch said Dennis Brown told police Tuesday he and his brother Michael, 8, were handling the .30-06 caliber weapon when it went off. The bullet struck Michael in the head.

Several weeks ago the department issued the order that campers could not remain at sites in Hickory Run State Park for more than two weeks.

It caught many who had made plans to stay in the park all summer, unprepared. They had made preparations to renew leases every two weeks throughout the summer.

Meeting with Goddard were Joseph A. Blatt, chief of the Division of State Parks, James R. Steffy, Bethlehem, president of the Hickory Run Camping Assn. and Dean Garland, Co-play, a member of the board. Sen. Fred B. Rooney (D-Northampton) planned the meeting. Goddard reported that the reasons for the recent order were that more campers could be accommodated in the season and that regulations of the State Health Department require it.

There are 200 camp sites at the park with adequate sanitary facilities and much more room available for more sites except that the space is not fitted out to meet minimum standards imposed on private camping facilities.

According to Goddard, statistics in one state park for 1957 showed 5,034 campers. With the two weeks limit imposed last year, there were 7,160 campers, an increase of 2,076. Statistics for other parks are nearly the same.

More than 100 campers are members of the Hickory Run Camping Assn. Goddard told Steffy and Garland that the order to limit camping to two weeks came in the middle of the season and was imposing a hardship on many long-term campers. It is estimated that some 64 families would be affected by the order.

After consultation with park personnel a decision will be announced. For the meantime campers are not being asked to leave.

Sites at the camp are leased at one dollar a day or seven dollars for two weeks. Rentals include use of sanitary facilities and utilities of the park.

Different Approach

Democrats in control of the State House failed at a caucus Tuesday to line up enough votes among their members to pass the $147,300,000 sales tax program needed to balance Gov. David Lawrence's $1,870,000,000 budget.

Republican leaders were able to enlist only seven of the 25 votes which Democrats had sought, so there was little chance that the tax package proposed by administration sources would win House approval.

And there was only slight hope that further conferences yesterday would break the extended impasse, which threatens to curtail many essential state services.

Back in mid-June, The Daily Record suggested a new approach to solving the state's fiscal problems. We still feel the plan has considerable merit and should be given a prominent place in studies being made to break the tax log-jam.

The Daily Record urged that a new bipartisan tax advisory committee be named to determine exactly how much revenue is needed to carry on necessary state operations.

Our second suggestion calls for extending the scope of the sales tax to cover all goods purchased within the Commonwealth except for take-home foods and articles already taxed by the state.

Such an approach would permit a lowering of the tax to a fraction of the present three and one-half percent — perhaps as low as one percent and surely not more than two.

Our plan has a number of advantages besides its revenue-raising feature. In the first place, we believe, an all-inclusive tax levy would be less confusing for both buyer and seller than the present tax.

Moreover, it would be much easier and consequently much cheaper to administer than present law. Why? Because a law with multiple exemptions is a sucker deal, one which encourages everyone to chisel whenever he can save anywhere from a few pennies to hundreds of dollars.

It follows, then, that untold savings would result if an all-inclusive sales tax were enacted since it would be possible for the state to release a large number of agents, the people who check on chisellers and administer the present complicated law, from its overburdened state payroll.

Again we urge state leaders to weigh our proposal, make any necessary improvements and come up with a tax program that will bring an end to the present impasse.

Dictator's Blueprint

Whatever conflicting things Teamsters boss Hoffa may say about his plans at one time or another, his blueprint for a super-monopoly keeps taking steadily clearer shape. Consider these new markings:

The Teamsters union intends to act as a "coordinator and neutral third party" between employers and dockworkers' unions on both the East and West Coasts. Teamsters groups will work with committees of both dockworkers' unions to study the effects of automation on the waterfront. And the Teamsters and the West Coast longshoremen's union (Harry Bridges' outfit) plan to "coordinate" their organizing activities in Hawaii.

All these moves are part of the master-plan through which Hoffa hopes to control shipping in addition to the trucking and other activities already in his grip. That is bad enough, but it is only a start toward his further goal of forging a colossal combine of all transport workers—land, sea and air. If that is achieved, he can look to still other fields of conquest.

More disturbing even than Hoffa's ambitions is the fact that there is no legal impediment to them. Like other union heads, he is free of the restraints on monopoly power that apply to the rest of our society. Hoffa may be more aggressive and ruthless than some of his contemporaries, but where unlimited power is there for the grabbing other Hoffas will doubtless rise. And when Hoffa or some other does achieve his ambitions, large segments of the economy will be at the mercy of one man.

Dictators have a way of advertising their plans in advance, though they may beat a strategic verbal retreat now and then if such seems wise. The advance warning is a break for the intended victims if they have wit enough to read.

Certainly Congress, which has the legal power to meet this power, cannot plead it never saw the blueprint.

The Pennsylvania Story

Little Man Forgotten

By Mason Denison
Harrisburg—Has the so-called "little fellow" been forgotten by Administration Democrats?

To many on Capitol Hill the answer is a somewhat reluctant "yes" — at least insofar as taxes are concerned.

A look at the record speaks fairly well for itself. It runs something like this:

In the 16 years preceding the advent of the Democratic Leader Administration—when Pennsylvania Democrats were so far down the line on the minority role that they forgot they existed—their chant constantly centered around championing the interests of the proverbial "little fellow."

It became quite a campaign plug. The then minority-ridden

Democrats who enjoyed as much power and authority as a beetle in a cement mixer, chafed loudly and bitterly over the plight of the "little fellow."

He was the one, Democrats then claimed, who was being made the goat by the then inglorious Republicans. It was the little fellow who bore the brunt of Republican-inspired tax programs.

So said Pennsylvania Democrats as they fought spiritedly, for example, the Republican proposed sales tax back in 1953. Democrats went into the 1954 campaign with the blood and thunder of the sales tax on their campaign lips.

In the surprise upset election that year when Democrats actually moved into the governorship, the momentum of the chant carried over into the Leader Administration as it fought for defeat of the sales tax—only to wind up with a three instead of a one per cent levy.

Throughout the past four years of the Democratic Leader Administration the save-the-little-fellow cry continued. Labor picked up the chant.

A more realistic approach finally began to settle over once-ardent Democrats as some of the lighter heads began to realize that if you don't tax "people," what remains to be taxed but industry?

Over-tax industry and out of the state it moves—and tragically perhaps, without industry, employment falls off, and without employment, no worker in demand. Who loses out in the end? The proverbial "little fellow."

The tremendous hue and cry of "save the little fellow" on the part of Democrats less than a decade ago has suddenly faded from the scene as a Democratic Lawrence Administration today finds itself faced with stark reality and not minority hot air.

During the current session of the Legislature almost nothing has been heard from Administration Democrats on the subject of "saving" the much aligned little fellow.

Look at the tax program endorsed by Administration Democrats (fact not fancy) and see where the consumer (the little fellow) stands. These are ten taxes of the 14 in the tax program embraced by the Administration that would directly affect the consumer:

Alcoholic beverage tax, tax on trade-ins, domestic electric power, telephone service, restaurant meals, repair and service charges, soft drinks, tobacco products, intangible personal property tax and bank shares.

If enacted, they would total some $360 million.

Small wonder perhaps little is being said these days by Administration Democrats—who this time are in the driver's seat—on the subject of protecting the little fellow!

Kozlov's Been Here

Great men from many countries pass through the port of New York day in and day out. Most of them attend to their own business and occasionally are interviewed by the press, but not often.

Sometimes there is such a thing as a state visit, when a king or queen or the president of a country shows up; then there is a ticker-tape parade and the mayor gives a luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria and that is that.

However, let a Russian come to town and all business stops. Everybody is ordered by the State Department to get busy entertaining the Russian and to be careful not to offend the creature, lest he get angry and tell Khrushchev on us!

When Anastas Mikoyan kind of sneaked into New York as a tourist, the preparations were so secret that only a few hundred people knew about them.

When he switched from a tourist to an official, all the formalities were readied for him and a group of businessmen had prepared expensive but private banquets for him all over the United States.

Mikoyan, being an Armenian, has a lighter touch than Kozlov, who is a heavy Russian peasant type. Mikoyan's sense of humor was attractive; Kozlov angers too quickly and an angry man often talks too much.

Kozlov talked too much and beyond his knowledge on several occasions, particularly when he blithely announced that Russia had paid in gold for the aid we gave its hungry people in the early 1920's.

When Kozlov said that, he lied and the record of his lies in correspondence between Herbert Hoover and the leaders of Russia at that time. A smart man would have been thoroughly briefed on Russo-American relations before he came to this country.

Also when Kozlov got into his argument with Governor "Soapy" Williams, he, Kozlov, talked like a fool. Again he should have been better briefed.

A governor of Michigan, if he knew anything at all would be well-informed about such countries as Poland and Hungary. Hamtramck, a city within a city in Detroit, probably has the greatest concentration of people of Polish blood anywhere.

It is stupid of Kozlov to attempt to downgrade Rickover by telling him that such a man as the admiral would be president or vice president of the Academy of Sciences in Russia—the job that pays the highest salary in that country—$60,000 a year, which, if you live in Russia, is a lot of dough.

Rickover holds several jobs but only gets the salary of a vice admiral which is small enough.

As the story was reported: "Admiral Rickover expressed surprise at Mr. Kozlov's reference to payment, and asked: 'Is Mr. Kozlov interested in money?'"

"Everybody needs money," Mr. Kozlov replied. "We need to live and for that we have to buy food and clothes ourselves and to buy the many other things that you people buy too."

To tell that to Rickover, who in private industry could earn whatever he chose to demand but who prefers to stay in the Navy and serve his country, is to disclose the spiritual poverty of Communist logic.

When Kozlov got busy with his peace propaganda, Admiral Rickover said to him: "It's all right to talk about peace. Now you go home and do something about it."

Kozlov may have learned something on this trip. When the next Russian shows up, we might treat him like a human being instead of a curiosity—and leave him to his w- devices.

Local National Guard Unit Expanding

Monroe County's National Guard organization is currently searching for 15 new recruits and by August 1.

The local National Guard unit is Co. "A" of the First Battle Group, 109th Inf. Regt., 28th Division.

Only a short time ago our National Guard units were companies "F" and "G." But, on June 1 the new Pentomic setup went into operation and the reamping took place.

Co. "A" is the first rifle company in the division.

At least three new recruits have been added to the local National Guard ranks, leaving a dozen spots to be filled during the next two weeks.

The local Guardsmen return from summer camp on Saturday, August 15.

They drill every Monday night in the East Stroudsburg Armory.

LT. Joe Shea, currently enjoying an Army leave at Wilmington, Del., visited friends in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg on Tuesday of this week.

Joe, a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School, received his commission and diploma at West Point last month.

He will soon depart for Fort Sill, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. John Drew and family of Patchogue, Long Island, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Harris, of 94 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

The Drews are former Stroudsburg residents.

The Drew family contains two children, namely Ellen and Stephen.

LT. Col. John Foulk is the new commander of the First Air Battle Group, 325th Inf., at Fort Bragg, N. C.

LT. Col. Foulk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Foulk, of 66 Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg.

He is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School and used to be a member of Co. "G" of the local National Guard.

Col. Foulk, a veteran of nine campaigns during World War II, has served in many different capacities since that time including duty in Vietnam and with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Among other awards he holds the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star with two clusters, Air Medal and Combat Infantryman's Badge. He received his commission in 1942 and has been a parachutist since 1936.

Roderick "Mac" MacLeod, Daily Record photographer, is currently a patient at the General Hospital of Monroe County.

He had an operation performed on his back yesterday morning.

Everyone is hopeful of a quick and complete recovery for the popular photographer.

Mrs. Mary Gallagher, daughter of Monroe County Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Leonard Rinaldi, of Henryville, moved this week to Alexandria, Va.

Her husband, Walter, is an Army chief stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va.

Rinaldi will miss most his three-year-old grandson, Brian Keith Gallagher.

The Allen-Scott Report

Washington — National Chairman Paul Butler is outwardly professing no concern about his future, but privately he is fully aware that he is up against the fight of his life to hold on to his $25,000-plus expenses job.

The Democratic congressional leaders he has been clouting are irately determined to get rid of him, and are getting a lot of help from other party notables.

Foremost among them are: Former President Truman, Pennsylvania's Gov. David Lawrence, Ohio's Gov. Michael DiSalle, Maryland's Gov. Millard Tawes, Illinois' National Committeeman Jacob Arvey, and National Treasurer Matthew McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor who has long been feuding with Butler.

For a week now they have been busily conferring throughout the country, by long-distance phone and emissaries, on how and when to crack down on him.

What these backstage efforts will lead to remain to be seen. It's still too early to judge how far they will get. But their extent and vigor greatly exceed previous similar attempts, and for that reason alone are portentously significant.

For example: For the first time, Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson are actively against Butler. In the past, they have either been friendly or neutral. At the National Committee meeting in New Orleans, it was Rayburn's support that largely saved Butler from being booted out.

But the two Texans don't feel that way toward him now. They are after his scalp and mean business. So do the other party leaders working closely with them.

So far they have done the following:

(1) (1) Agreed they will have to pool forces to put over a "strong" choice to replace Butler. For this purpose they are taking soundings on Senator Clair Engle, Calif.; Charles Murphy, member of Truman's White House staff; Joseph Donohue, Washington,

These large personal outlays are a definite factor in the National Committee's financial difficulties. According to Butler's official reports, it is spending at the rate of more than $1 million a year while taking in considerably less.

His last report, for the three-month period March 1 to June 1, showed expenditures of $426,772.76 and income of only $372,191.80.

From Butler's own staff, his irate foes have learned that he is now having difficulty meeting an 8,900 weekly payroll, that he has fire four employees, and that one of them quit after a row—Kenneth Birkhead, veteran party worker who was in charge of the Committee's fund-raising operations.

Various governors and state chairmen raised the possibility of "drying up" the Committee's treasury.

Pennsylvania's Governor Lawrence, long critical of Butler, pointed out that his state and California are the biggest contributors to the National Committee. In the first six months of this year, it got more than $32,000 from Pennsylvania.

It is Lawrence's belief that if the large states shut off contributions, Butler will be "forced out in short order."

Two Midwestern governors are urging that he be "bought off." They are saying intimations have been made to them that Butler is willing to depart voluntarily if an acceptable opening is found for him.

A close friend of Truman, who heads an important law firm, was personally sounded out by Butler on a tie-up. The answer was a polite no!

Both former White House assistant Charles Murphy and "Jiggs" Donohue have sought Truman's support to replace Butler. The former President was set to scathingly blast him, but was persuaded to hold his fire.

It was explained to Truman that a move is underway to get a number of Democratic governors to denounce Butler, and his statement would fit in better after theirs.

California's Gov. Edmund Brown holds the key to whether Senator Engle becomes a serious contender for national chairman. Brown is being sounded out on that. Engle is willing to go after Butler's place, but is leaving the decision in Brown's hands.

A major factor in what he does is California's ambitious National Committeeman Paul Ziffren, one of Butler's closest allies.

Seek Butler Ouster

D. C. attorney, and 1956 campaign manager for Senator Estes Kefauver; and National Treasurer McCloskey.

(2) Canvassed the prospect of "buying out" Butler; that is, opening the way for him to get a big income private connection.

(3) Discussed "drying up" the funds of the already hard-pressed National Committee, and thus "squeezing" him out of the chairmanship.

Lure and Lead—The last two matters are closely related.

Although Butler is a lawyer, he has not been practicing for several years. Being chairman is all he does. For that he gets $25,000 salary and expenses, which his critics claim are running as high as $50,000 a year—for an overall loss of $75,000.

They charge his expenses include $400 a month for a Washington apartment, plus frequent plane trips to his home in South Bend, Ind.

These large personal outlays are a definite factor in the National Committee's financial difficulties. According to Butler's official reports, it is spending at the rate of more than $1 million a year while taking in considerably less.

His last report, for the three-month period March 1 to June 1, showed expenditures of $426,772.76 and income of only $372,191.80.

Stroud Union Seeks Plans For Fire Prevention

Agreement To Cover Four Schools

STROUD Union School District Board made a motion last night to have architects draw up specifications for fire prevention renovations on the Morey, Analomink, Stroud Union and Delaware Water Gap Schools in accordance with a directive from the Department of Labor and Industry, Harrisburg.

A letter from Inspector Predmore of the department said that the basements must be separated from the upper floors by fire resistor material in the Morey, Analomink and Delaware Water Gap Schools.

In addition fire doors must separate the basements from the upper floors in the Morey and Delaware Water Gap Schools. A fire resistor ceiling must be installed in the boiler room of the Morey School, fire doors put on all existing doors in the Stroud Union and Water Gap Schools and the heating plant of the Water Gap School enclosed by fire resistor material.

In request from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College to use Giffels Field for two night football games, Sept. 26 and Oct. 10, the board granted its approval at a cost to the college of $50 plus five percent of the gate.

Two Resignations
Two resignations were accepted from Miss Barbara Berroth and Michael Jacobella. Four new teachers were hired for the forthcoming school year. Mrs. Leona Willhoite in elementary music at $4,200, Mrs. Avora Terrill in Latin at $4,000, Mrs. Joan B. Weber in English at $3,600 and Mrs. Judy Cox in English at $3,600. In addition Mrs. Gloria B. Brockley was recommended as a substitute teacher.

Milk contract for the coming year was given to the Fable Dairy.

An approval of 6,360 worth of purchase for National Defense Educational purposes was granted to the Board by the State, the Board meeting half of this sum in accordance with State policy.

Permutation was granted by the Board for the purchase of 18 inches of land bordering the Morey School at the price of $500.

Contracts for fuel oil to the Hamilton School were received from the following companies; Charles Gordon at 11.1 cents per gallon, Stiff Oil Co. at 12.6 cents per gallon, Bockman Oil Co. at 11.1 cents per gallon, Bernard Peters at 11.6 cents per gallon and Parker Oils Sales at 10.98 cents per gallon. The bid was given to Parker Oils Sales.

Fuel Oil
Contracts for fuel oil for the Morey, Ramsey, Clearview and Arlington Heights Schools came from three companies. The Parker Oils Sales at 9.23 cents per gallon, the Bockman Oil Co. at 8.50 cents per gallon and Hess Fuel Co. at 8.71 cents per gallon. The bid was awarded to Bockman Oil Co.

Bids for gasoline in school vehicles were received from Riders Service at 18.3 cents a gallon and from William Johnson at 18.0 cents per gallon. The bid was given to Johnson.

Garbage and waste collection and disposal was given to Edward Coslar for $1,500. The only other bid was by W. J. Halterman for $2,227.50.

Elwood Fenner was hired as school bus driver for the coming school year.

The report of the tax collectors as to those who should be exonerated from per capita school taxes was accepted.

Permission was granted to advertise for bids on the following items: Ramsey School ceiling-lunch room, lighting for ceiling in the same lunch room an dvenetian blinds for the east side of the high school.

Six Sent To Hospital After Auto Wreck

MOUNT POCONO — A two-car accident on Legislative Route 45035 two miles west of here at 2:50 sent six persons to two area hospitals.

State Police of the local barracks identified the drivers as William J. Martens, Mount Pocono, an employee at Mount Airy Lodge, and Harry Leeds, Jr., 38, of 449 W. Shawnee St., Plymouth.

Martens suffered a broken left arm, but was not hospitalized. Passengers in his car, Harry Gold of Far Rockway Beach, Long Island, N. Y., and his wife, Helene, 17, were taken to Monroe County General Hospital where she was treated for a back injury and both were discharged.

Leeds and his wife, Lois, 30, were admitted to Wilkes-Barre General Hospital for treat-

Eldred School Board Undecided On Pupils

KUNKLETON — Where Eldred Township's secondary students are going to school this Fall still has not been determined by the Eldred school board.

Members meeting for their regular monthly session at the elementary school here last night said they have taken no steps yet to reach a solution. Nor have they set up a school calendar for 1959-60 which will determine the opening day of school.

Directly involved are 49 secondary students. The board said that of the 39 attending Polk Consolidated School last year, three graduated and three quit school, joining the remaining 33 will be 16 more who graduated from the eighth grade at the elementary school in June.

The master budget for Pleasant Valley Jointure's next three years of operation, released two weeks ago, includes tuition payments from Eldred to the joint board.

Reports at a West End Taxpayers' League meeting last Friday that the State Department of Public Instruction has approved the placing of Eldred's secondary students in jointure school buildings on tuition have not been confirmed.

Another seven Eldred secondary students who have been attending Palmerston Area Joint High School will be allowed to finish out their high school years there.

The Eldred board members said they had done nothing for the 49 students after a long executive session in which there was constant debate.

Before the closed session began the board elected Clark E. Green as treasurer for one year. He had been serving as temporary chairman for this board which succeeded the one that resigned May 5.

The board also chose a committee of two to try to obtain the services of a Stroudsburg solicitor for the school district.

State Senate Approves Two Pension Measures

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate Wednesday gave final legislative approval to two measures which would provide for pensions for widows of firemen, policemen or employees of third class cities.

One bill provides that the city council may authorize payments to the widows of retired city officials equal to half the pension the former employee was receiving when he died.

Widows

It also provides that the widow shall continue to receive the money until she remarries or dies.

The other bill would make the same provision for widows of policemen or firemen. It also provides that the widow of any policeman or fireman killed in action after Jan. 1, 1960 would receive an amount equal to half of the pension the victim would have received upon retirement.

Both measures were approved earlier by the House and now go to Gov. Lawrence for his signature.

Will It Rain For Forty Straight Days?

IT RAINED yesterday and — if the legend is correct — it will now rain for 40 more days.

Yesterday was St. Swin's Day in honor of St. Swin, bishop of Winchester, England. Tradition has it that if it rains on his day, it will rain for 40 more.

The rainfall totaled .10 of an inch in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg according to The Daily Record rain gauge.

ment of multiple cuts. Their three children, Dale, 12; Jane, 10; and David, six, were examined at the hospital and released.

'Troopers said Martens' car pulled into the path of the Leeds vehicle.

Although the payments aren't expected to begin until fall, the Korean conflict Veterans' Compensation Bureau started setting up machinery for disbursement to an estimated 400,000 applicants and beneficiaries.

About 90 persons will be employed to handle the processing, said Bureau Director Edward F. Ryan.

FAITH SETS THE STAGE

This is Oberammergau in a quiet moment.

Choral director Hans Getzler teaches some children.

Carver Leonhard Maderspacher works on likeness of Virgin Mary.

Play's costumes are hung in storage rooms.

THE BAVARIAN VILLAGE of Oberammergau is already working on its world-famed Passion Play even though the religious spectacle won't be presented until May, 1960. The production is held once every ten years and dates back more than 300 years. Only those born in the village or who have lived there for 20 years can take a part in the play, which has 600 roles and is seven hours long. Even so, just about all of the town's 5,000 persons help out in the production. The play's tradition goes back to a plague in 1633, when village residents promised to present the story of Christ's suffering if they were spared. The plague ended.

Fashions Change In Detail

By Bobby Westbrook

New York—In deciding what is new in the couture fashion field, your twice-a-year fashion experts relies on one rule of thumb: If it looks queer, it's probably new!

Queer doesn't mean ugly, necessarily, merely unfamiliar. Let me give you one example. Harry Frechtel's suit with the 2 1/2 inch jacket, the pleated almost puffed elbow length sleeves, looked queer. The eye accepts the fitted 23-inch jacket with the belt which can be worn or not, but not that extra inch and a half.

We have been accustomed to the shorter jacket. This year 19 inches is about the shortest, and the sleeve is exactly the same length, giving that wiser look to the top which is becoming more noticeable. In fact you find yourself becoming more noticing.

Sondheim showed his clothes just one-half inch longer and you noticed. You notice other details, too. The fact that the top of the sleeves in coats, suits and dresses is wider—though not padded. That the cardigan, Chanel-type jacket, is bound in braid, or satin, or in evening wear with gold bouillon and velvet.

Now for some of those details:

Maurice Rentner achieves his "linear" look in his harvest collection by focusing on the lines of the body, achieving ease at the waistline by such numbers as his "smoking jacket" suits, casually belted. For afternoon and late day fashions, he uses the curvilinear look. He did a tremendous group of satins which seemed to me to be designed for very, very impressive mothers of the bride whose father has lots of money.

The same air of opulence marked the Ben Reig collection. There was an evening composition of a white silk satin, jeweled suspender sheath, wrapped in its own ribbed silk evening coat—white "mink lined. One of his after-dark dresses of black silk achieved width through a jeweled design which formed a kind of yoke and then spread over into the long sleeves.

Mollie Parris achieved her soft but definite width at the top sometimes by huge Pierrot collars, cowl draper or scarf neckline, sometimes by wide flat folds, and sometimes in pronounced width of the sleeve.

Hannah Troy emphasized simple elegance from daytime dresses in silk or sapphire to sable-collared theater costumes in moiré lame and gold-threaded herringbone tweed.

Harry Frechtel, whose one 2 1/2 inch suit jacket we mentioned earlier, also made a big thing of the completely reversible coat, used lots of small leopard fur for trimming. His three-piece theater costume of embroidered white silk velvet was something to see, too, and he was refreshingly frank in admitting his debt to Balenciaga for the reversible coat and Chanel for his satin-bound cardigan suit jackets.

Refreshing is a word that many fashion editors apply to Herbert Sondheim, who announces his shows himself and does it extremely well. The same adjective might be applied to his clothes.

"You'll all be well-brocaded by the end of the week," he warned the fashion editors and then showed some handsome brocades from his collection, distinguished by looped panels falling from the waist and ending in fringe. He also had a group of ankle-length slim evening gowns which looked "queer" enough to be news.

B. H. Wragge concluded the showings with a collection without any startling innovations but lots of ensembles with "spare parts" like a jacket, a skirt and odd shirt, and of course the lounging trousers for which they are known.

Sour Cream Provides Food Fun

For every group of baseball fans discussing batting averages and league standings there's sure to be a gathering of gourmets talking over food favorites this summer. Chances are, too, that many of their gourmet classics contain sour cream. Good cooks and connoisseurs everywhere know its merits.

Sour cream is made from fresh cream that has been pasteurized and homogenized. The finishing touch comes when a culture, lactic acid bacteria, is added. Then the cream is kept under controlled temperatures until the desired acidity is reached. The end result is a rich ripened cream with a clear clean cultured taste. The flavor can best be described as sweet-sour or tart—a tasty high quality product that is easy to digest. It has a smooth texture and heavy body.

Sour Cream contains 19 percent butterfat—the same as regular coffee cream. Because of this it is useful in cooking and baking and can be used to replace some of the fat in pancakes, cookies, cakes and waffles.

Like other dairy products Sour Cream requires refrigeration and should be used within several days to get its best flavor.

Cooking Caution: In hot dishes such as a sauce, or beef stroganoff, remove the food from direct heat before adding sour cream. Reheat to simmering. High temperatures or boiling may cause curdling.

Also, if you whip sour cream slightly to increase its fluffiness, use a cold bowl and be careful not to overwhip or it will churn and turn to butter.

Dips: Sour Cream goes with ease into many dishes. From dips to desserts it's a summertime natural.

For a Dip: Blend sour cream, mayonnaise, minced onion, radishes, cucumbers, green peppers. Use crisp vegetables—carrots, celery, squash, turnip—strips for dunking.

On Soup: Top tomato, pea, bean or beet (borscht) soup with a spoonful of whipped sour cream.

With Meats: Make sour cream gravy for dried beef or fried chicken. Combine horseradish and sour cream for a sauce to be served with ham, ham loaf, tongue or cold cuts. The perennial favorite—beef stroganoff—try it for a casserole crowd.

In Vegetables: Add to cooked lima beans, beets and cabbage. Combine with minced onion or chives to serve on a backyard charcoal baked potato or add to mashed or hash browned potatoes.

Sadads: Fruit and vegetable salads both take on a certain smoothness when topped with a sour cream dressing.

Then for a quick, but no ordinary Dessert: Sweeten whipped sour cream to serve on most any fresh fruit—raspberries, blueberries and cherries. Combine peach and orange wedges and toss lightly in sour cream.

Food Marketing Trends: Food shoppers will find slightly lower meat prices this week, but the biggest savings will be found in featured items. Fore-quarter cuts of beef, mostly chucks for roasts and ground meats are still the economy leader. Pork prices have reached their peak and further price drops can be anticipated.

Broiler marketings during the July-September period are expected to be about 5 percent smaller than during the corresponding period last year. This would indicate slightly higher retail prices in the weeks ahead. Small "consumer size" turkeys are in good supply and a good buy. Egg markets are steady for two weeks of rising costs. More medium sized eggs are reaching market.

There is a good variety of fresh fruits and vegetables in our grocery stores now. Look for attractive prices appearing on cabbage, sweet corn, green beans, peas, peppers, and cucumbers. Peaches and melons top the best buys in fruit this week. Other fruits available now include red piums, grapes, nectarines and new crop apples. In the citrus line we still have California valencia oranges at reasonable prices. Grapefruit are seasonally scarce and high in price, but there are ample supplies of lemons and limes.

Just Between Us

By Bobby Westbrook

It was a day for meeting old friends. Well, Miss America and I are not exactly bosom buddies, but we had met in Philadelphia during the Miss Pennsylvania contest so when she popped up as surprise guest at the Almac uncheon I recognized her first as an acquaintance and only second as Miss America, despite her crown and the flowers of all 50 states which trimmed her dress.

It was more a shock of surprise to meet at the elevator at the Overseas Press Club the mother of a high school classmate of my son—Donnie Kniekman's mother, working in the office there and finds the work fascinating.

I was fascinated in trying to see where Overseas Pressmen work—not at the Club, I'm sure. The only familiar sight to a newspaper woman were the teletype machines in the front hallway. All the rest was red velvet carpet, comfortable lounges and a winding staircase down which we whirled for four flights because the elevator was only big enough to hold five at a time.

We had been up to see the shoe industries exhibit for Moscow (shoes pointed but not needed and much of the boot look). The international flavor set by the Moscow American Show continues. There were signs in Russia at the shoes and on the cosmetics to be sent to Moscow. Ever one of Maurice Rentner's fabulous dresses was missing from his collection because it's on its way to Moscow.

The Watchmakers of Switzerland switched the flow of fashions this way, and presented some amusing watches; watches to tell time when your parking meter is up; watches to keep your golf score on; watches with moon phases for fishermen; even a watch for a doctor which takes the beat of a pulse. And for insomniacs, a watch with a dial that lights up when you press a button.

The only watch they didn't have was one which would save time, and that's the one we needed. Even though the day starts with breakfast—14 blocks away—at 7:30 a.m. and ends well after midnight, there still isn't time enough in a day.

You eat, watch, talk or write fashions all day long. Which is probably why I so thoroughly enjoyed seeing Ethel Merman in "Gypsy". Completely absorbed for the

Mrs. John Edward Schultz

Miss Rita Pfaffinger Wed To John Edward Schultz

Miss Rita Hedwig Pfaffinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pfaffinger, Stroudsburg RD 2, was married on June 20 at 12 noon in Grace United Church of Christ, Tannersville, to John Edward Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Schultz, 311 Shaw Road, Ridley Park.

Rev. William E. Foosse performed the double ring ceremony with Miss Gail Rhodes of Oheyan, Iowa, as organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length white gown of hand clipped chantilly lace and nylon tulle over taffeta. The fitted lace bodice with scalloped edged sleeves, matching mits, and scalloped sash neckline was highlighted with sequins and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt was encircled by two wide panels of lace draping to the back and accented by two large chantilly lace roses. She wore a silk illusion fingertip length veil which fell from a lace Juliet type cap. She carried a white orchid and lilies of the valley on a white bible.

The bride's sister, Miss Helen Pfaffinger, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of aqua silk organza over matching taffeta, fashioned on a princess line with a round neckline and cap sleeves. The bell shaped skirt was banded at the bottom by wide panel of shirred organza highlighted in the back by a large organza bow.

The bridesmaids, Miss Phyllis Sheppard of Buchanan, N. Y., Miss Carol Ludy of Melanicsburg, and Miss Jean Harding of Lee, Mass., wore similar dresses of soft yellow. The attendants wore pale yellow headpieces with short veils and carried bouquets of yellow daisies.

Area Highway Almost Half Complete

A SEVEN-MILE strip of four-lane concrete road between Saylorsburg and Wind Gap which will cost three million dollars is 40 percent completed, according to A. Victor Cesare, district engineer for the State Highways Department.

This first section of the proposed Penn-Can Interstate Highway from Philadelphia into Canada will handle its first traffic this Fall or next Spring, depending on the availability of steel for roadbedding, Cesare said.

International Traffic. He guessed that the finished interstate highway will begin handling international traffic in about 10 years. The road will run from Saylorsburg to Stroudsburg by way of Saylorsville and Bartonsville, and from there through the Scranton area and into New York State where a similar highway north to Canada will meet it. The road from Wind Gap south has not yet been mapped out in Harrisburg, the engineer said.

The second part of the construction will start as soon as the Highway Department gives the go-ahead signal, Cesare said.

Sunday Sales Bill In House

HARRISBURG—Referred to the House floor for action is a bill banning the sale of "unessential" merchandise on Sundays. It was placed in position for House action by a vote of the Rules Committee.

The measure already has passed the Senate, 57-9. The same body on Monday killed a bill that would have outlawed any merchandising on Sundays by establishments employing three or more people.

It was aimed at the corner market and the roadside stand, and was supported by the meat cutters' union.

Lawrence Ready To Sign Bill

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence said recently he would sign into law any tax program enacted by the Legislature provided it is "not inequitable and unjust."

However, he refused specifically to say if he would agree to boosting the state's sales tax from 3½ percent to 4 per cent.

Mims Is Easy Victor In Fight

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Holly Mims, eighth-ranked middleweight contender, smothered George Benton in a bout fought at close range Wednesday night to win a unanimous decision in 10 rounds at the Miami Beach Auditorium. Mims weighed 155½, Benton 150½.

The 30-year-old winner from Baltimore kept on top of his young opponent and refused to give him punching room for his vaunted right hand. Benton, 26, from Philadelphia, began to lose Mims' style in the late rounds.

Referee Billy Regan scored it 96-94, Judge Stu Winston 97-94 and Judge Gus Jacobson 98-95, all for Mims.

It was the national television debut of Benton who had beaten Mims in an eight-round bout at Philadelphia in 1952.

There were no knockdowns or anything close to it. Mims concentrated on short right uppercuts as they fought head to head while Benton tried to score at long range before Mims tied him up.

Some sections of the country received no television picture of the first half of the fight. The TV announcer had to provide a radio-style broadcast.

Mims now has a 46-18-6 record for 70 pro fights. Benton's record is 36-31 in 42 starts.

Probably one of the main reasons the Strouds are finding it hard to move forward into the Blue Mountain Baseball League race is that the team can't get a sustained attack going. The latest statistics in the BML reveal that not one Stroud is among the first six men in batting averages, nor among the first half dozen in the runs-batted-in department.

The only place the Strouds have a player among the individual leaders is in stolen bases where Gene Plaza paces with eight.

One interesting figure comes out of the BML statistics in that Carl Duser, the former Kansas City A's hurler, probably won't get back in the majors as a hurler but could very well get a chance via his hitting. Duser leads the circuit in home runs with six, and is second in RBIs with 15.

Easton's Terry Bartolet, the schoolboy who turned down 60 college offers, including West Point for Harvard, leads the league in batting with .415. Bobby Egizio of Bath is second with .410.

Bethlehem's Bill Leckonby, son of the Lehigh football coach, and Bath's Gene Parsons, Lafayette college pitching mainstay, head the pitchers with 6-0 records each. Leckonby is a Yale University moundsman during the collegiate baseball season.

With just five games to go, Tannersville, Kunkletown, West End and Lehighite appear the teams to beat for Reders, Ansonink if the latter two hope to get in the Pocono Mountain League's post-season playoffs.

Tannersville, unless they fall dead on their faces have all but cinched a playoff berth. The Tanns of Gih Bachman, currently one game ahead of the West End and Kunkletown, needs only two wins out of its next five starts to clinch a runoff spot. However the league-leaders would not doubt like to win all the way and claim the regular season crown—the most coveted title of two of the PML.

Kunkletown and West End have to win three of the last five outings to be assured of a post-season position. While Lehighite, the defending league champs, needs four out of five wins to make it official.

While the above must do this or that to make it, Ansonink and Reders have to win all five games apiece while Tannersville, Lehighite, West End and Kunkletown are bowing so to speak. And the A's and Reders have to knock off this quartet one time or another as they play some of these clubs in their finales.

Bushkill mathematically is still in the running with a 6-7 leg one game behind Reders and West End. But Bushkill has to see all of the first four falter badly in order to make a pronounced bid for the first division.

Anything can happen in baseball and usually does. However, the chances at this late stage are slimmer.

The race in the BML has been mighty close this season with first changing hands a few times and second, third and fourth moving back and forth for a spell.

Former East Stroudsburg High second baseman, Bobby Kassner is working in the golf shop at Tamiment. Bobby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Kassner, is a student at Penn State University.

According to the picture of the Glen Brook foursome which placed high in the recent pro-am golf tournament, Frank Radler looked like he was ready for mound duty.

Frank, probably the winningest hurler over the years ever to represent a Stroudsburg nine, appears in tip top shape. However, the chawing tobacco man still is troubled with a bad leg which he injured some time ago.

What reminded us that Radler should return to baseball was seeing Elmer Vale in a Cleveland Indian uniform and Country Slaughter in a Yankee suit. Vale who admits to 38 but as Phil Rizzuto said is older, and Slaughter who says he is only 42 are good examples that condition can keep a man going a long time.

Both Vale and Slaughter have 40 years of major league baseball under their belts thus far. And neither one has given an indication that plan to retire this year.

Plans Swim Of Channel

NEW YORK (AP)—Geta Anderson, 147 pounds of pulchritude, charm and personality. She also swims.

She swims well enough to believe she can conquer the English Channel the hard way, meaning both ways non-stop, and she's going to try it when she competes in the annual channel race Aug. 27.

"I'm quite confident I can do it," said the Danish-born former Olympic 100-meter free-style champion, "because I made the round trip to Catalina Island. Nobody ever did it before. My 10-11 mark broke the men's record going over, and my 15-35 bettered the women's record coming back. And the distance and currents approximate those of the channel."

Mrs. Sonnichen—her husband, John, is a high school football coach at San Pedro, Calif., and serves as her trainer—has won 15 marathons, even starting her pro competitive career in 1956. In seven of them she also defeated the male swimmers.

Sports Bill Hearings Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hearings on legislation dealing with professional team sports will open July 28 before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Before the subcommittee, Kefauver said Wednesday, is his bill to put baseball, football, basketball and hockey under the antitrust laws with provisional immunity.

Another would grant complete immunity to noncommercial aspects of the four team sports. This latter bill was introduced by Sens. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.), Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.).

At present baseball is exempt from antitrust laws as a result of Supreme Court decisions. The court left to Congress the question of putting all four sports on the same footing.

Broadcasting Corp. for the Canadian television rights to the Archie Moore-Yvon Durelle light heavyweight title fight here July 29. The bout will be televised in the U. S. by the American Broadcasting Co.

Wins Jaycee Links Tourney

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Harry Toscano, a 17-year-old golf enthusiast from New Castle, finished first Wednesday in the annual tournament sponsored by the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Hershey Park Course.

Dodgers, Nats Win Games

Killebrew Hits 31st; Drysdale Wins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harmon Killebrew clouted his 31st home run Wednesday night as Washington won a rain-shortened five-inning game from Detroit 3-0 and moved past the Tigers into fifth place.

Comilio Pascual allowed only one hit, a fifth-inning single by Gus Zernial. It was Pascual's sixth straight victory and made his record for the year 10-7.

Killebrew parked a Jim Bunning pitch into the left-center field seats in the first inning with the bases empty.

Rookie Bob Allison, another star in the brightening Senator picture, drove in the other two runs with a pair of doubles.

Pascual retired 14 men in a row before giving up a single to Zernial. He was touched for a lead-off double by Ted Lepio in the sixth inning, but the rain came down heavily a few minutes later and the game was called.

3-Hitter For Don

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Don Drysdale pitched a three-hit shutout and drove in two runs Wednesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers regained second place in the National League race with a 3-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The victory, ending the Dodgers' losing string at three, pushed them past the Milwaukee Braves by .002 percentage points and left them a game behind the first-place San Francisco Giants. The fourth-place Pirates are three games behind.

Drysdale, who is leading the majors in strikeouts, added seven more to his string. He walked three. His season record now stands at 11 victories and six defeats.

Drysdale set the Pirates down in order the first three innings. He gave up a single to Danny Kravitz in the fifth and Dick Groat doubled in the sixth. Dick Stuart's single in the seventh was the last Pirate hit.

The Dodgers got one run in the third when Morrie Wills singled, stole second and scored on Charlie Neal's single. Drysdale batted in two more in the seventh with a double after Norm Larker singled and Wills was given an intentional pass.

In taking two straight games from the erstwhile National League leaders, the Cubs peaked away at starter and loser Carl Willey. Bob Rush and Don McMahon for seven blows, including a run-scoring single by Hobbie, himself.

The lean right-hander boosted his record to 10-7 for the campaign, matching his winning production of his 1958 freshman year which was tops for the club. It was his second triumph over the Braves this season and ran his two-year record against them to 5-0.

Hobbie struck out three and walked five in drawing a round of applause from 22,206 Wrigley Field patrons.

Ricketts May Drop Hoop For Diamond

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dick Ricketts, former All-American basketball player at Duquesne University, may drop out of professional basketball in favor of a pitching career with the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I think I should stick to baseball, now that I have made the majors," then 6-foot-8 Cincinnati Royals player told a newsmen Sunday.

"There's more security in baseball and the setup is better all around," Ricketts added. The Cardinals brought Ricketts up from Rochester, N. Y., a few weeks ago. During his four-year stint in the minors, Ricketts also played pro basketball. He did not play with the Royals last season, but is listed on the NBA roster as voluntarily retired, which would make him eligible to return to the club should he choose to do so.

Althea Shun Of State Play May Be Costly

NEW YORK (AP)—Althea Gibson, the temporarily retired tennis queen, Wednesday decided to pass up the Pennsylvania State Championships next week. This may cost her a place on the U.S. Wightman Cup team which plays the British next month.

"I had offered to play for the Wightman Cup because it involves my country," said the 31-year-old U.S. and Wimbledon champion of 1958. "But I have no desire to play in any of the other tournaments though I'm in good shape and my game is still sharp."

Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont, the U.S. Wightman Cup captain, has announced she will select the cup squad from the entries in the Pennsylvania tournament, first stop on the Eastern grass courts swing.

Defending U. S. Champ

"It's been the policy to select the Wightman Cup team from those players who are on the tournament circuit," said Althea. "I'd be surprised if I was selected. On the other hand, I'm still the defending U.S. champion."

She said, however, she wouldn't be offended or resentful if she's omitted, as now seems likely.

The Wightman Cup matches will be held Aug. 18-19 at Sewickley, Pa. The British broke 20 years of American domination in this series by winning 4-3 at Wimbledon last year. The key British victory was Christine Truman's 2-6, 6-3, 6-4 conquest of Miss Gibson.

H-L-H Faces Cramer's For 2nd LL Title

HELLER-Lloyd-Howell will meet R. C. Cramer's for the second half championship of the East Stroudsburg Little League tonight at 6 o'clock. This came about when H-L-H went into a tie for first place with the Lumberboys last night by defeating First National Bank, 2-0, via Frank Sidlosky's two-hit hurling.

H-L-H, first half champs, got their runs in the first two cantos and then worked efficiently behind Sidlosky's shutout hurling.

Monte Peretti was the losing pitcher although only allowing three hits during his six-inning stint.

The game is set for East Stroudsburg Memorial Stadium at 7:15 o'clock is bound to see Feigner firing his fast ball past a number of hitters. And at the same time, the home team will be out to prove that Ed is not invincible although this is quite a task.

Red Williams and Stan Musial are the men in baseball who are moving along in years but still remain in the game. And Feigner, now 34, is softball's kingpin, rolling along in a business in which he shows endurance that might not be expected of a young 18 year old. As the pitcher for the four man team, Feigner has the job all to himself. While he tours night after night around the United States and Canada, Ed can never look to the bull pen when he gets weary. The team has no other pitcher and Feigner must hurl every game.

Looks To Future
Looking to the future and a successor, Feigner has several fine young pitchers in mind to take his place three or four years hence. During 1959 he may even use a couple of the outstanding ones for an inning or two to let the fans have a look at what could be the new king.

But Feigner is far from thinking of retiring at the present. He started the 1959 season in West Covina, California, by striking out 18 batters in a seven inning game. It was evident then and there that Feigner, the great pitcher and showman, was still The King.

Soviet Track Stars Here

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Russian men and women track stars arrived Monday for their weekend meet with U.S. athletes on the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field.

After eating lunch and resting in their hotel rooms, Coach George Rorobok hustled his charges to the site of the competition for a workout.

A group of 79 members of the Soviet squad arrived in New York by plane from Brussels. They boarded a bus for the 90 mile ride to Philadelphia.

Tribe's Gordon Cautious

Feels Tribe Flag Threat With 'Others'

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Joe Gordon rates his Cleveland Indians capable of winning the American League pennant but he refused Wednesday to make an outright prediction.

"Anyone who says flatly that this team or that team will win the pennant just doesn't know what he's talking about," said Gordon. "There isn't a team strong enough to pull away from the rest."

Worried About Yanks
Gordon was relaxing, having just learned that the doubleheader with the New York Yankees had been postponed because of rain. Instead there will be a twin bill Thursday with the other game played on an open date on Cleveland's next visit here.

"I see where you fellows have been counting the Yankees out of it," said Gordon, a member of five earlier Yankee championship clubs. "You're making a mistake. They're a good club. They've got too many good players to be down where they are. I'm still worried about them."

The biggest surprise this season, next to the flop of the Yankees, has been the smooth performance of the Indians who have been at or near the top all year.

If anyone had predicted on April 1 that Cleveland would be leading the league on July 15 with Jimmy Piersall and Billy Martin on the bench and 1958 rookie stars Gary Bell and Muezzin Jim Grant in the bullpen, he probably would have been fitted for a straight jacket.

But there they are today even if by only two percentage points over the Chicago White Sox. Originally, Piersall and Martin were acquired to plug holes in center field and at second base. But both are on the bench, having lost their jobs to Tito Francona and Jim Baxes. Piersall is hitting .229 and Martin .236.

"The most pleasant surprise on our club has been Francona," said Gordon. "He personally has meant the difference in 10 games for us. He became a regular by hard work. He made his own opportunity. Right now he's the hottest hitter on the club."

Shortstop Woody Held and third baseman George Strickland have given the Indians their best defensive infield in many years, according to Gordon.

"Baxes is another who has done a great job," said Gordon. He got his chance when Martin got hurt. Although he never played second before he'd done everything you could ask of an experienced second baseman. He'll stay there as long as we keep on winning with him."

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where pifion won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing! Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thrifmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped 1/2-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

Unknown Seen Driver To Beat

Modified-Sportsman Cars Race At Nazareth Sunday

NAZARETH—The little publicized Bob Malzahn, of Kingsbury, N. J., 1959 point leader with two feature events to his credit—will be the man to beat this coming Sunday night, 8:30 p. m., when the modified-sportsman stock cars return to the half-mile track in the Nazareth, Pa., Fairgrounds.

'Beef' Theme Of Rotary Mat Program

HARMONY — More than a one-half ton of human flesh, not counting the referee's poundage, will be in the ring when Haystack Calhoun and The Mighty Jumbo clash in a special attraction over the one-fall-to-a-finish route on the Rotary Club of Belvidere-sponsored wrestling show at the Warren County Fair Grounds here Tuesday night, July 21. In the event of rain the program will be held on Wednesday night, July 22.

The big bee match will involve Calhoun, a mild-mannered 601 pounder from Morgan's Corner, Ark., and The Mighty Jumbo, a direct opposite to Calhoun hailing from Big Tree, Mont. Calhoun, whose sportsmanship in and out of the humpen square has won him a host of admirers from Coast-to-Coast, is former boy who still wears his coveralls, cut at the knees, while in action. He also carries a horseshoe with chain around his neck which he places around the post in his corner as a luck charm.

Rough-House
The Jumbo is a rough-house performer. He will kick, bite, gouge, do anything to take home the bacon. Whether he will succeed against Haystack is another thing. Calhoun has been in with the best.

The top contest of the show will be a team event sending Antonino Rocca and Red Bastien against Chris and John Tolos. A second team contest involves Luis Martinez and Luis Torres against The Graham brothers, Jerry and Eddie.

Jack Terry against Little Eagle and Rito Romero against The Zebra Kid rounds out the program, second annual affair here.

1st PGA Head Dies At 85

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP)—Robert White, 85, first president of the Professional Golfers Assn. of America, died at a hospital Wednesday following a brief illness. A native of St. Andrews, Scotland, White had been a Myrtle Beach resident since 1928. He was an active golf pro for many years and helped organize the PGA.

Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

Athletes Not Superwomen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ed Temple, coach of the American girls who meet the Russians in the big international track meet of the year this weekend, no longer considers the Moscow lassies superwomen.

"When I took our team to Russia last year," said Temple Wednesday, "I didn't know what to expect. Everyone told me the Russians were unbeatable. But we won four of the 10 events on the program and surprised everyone."

Have Advantage
"I'll concede they have the advantage in the field events," said Temple, who coaches at Tennessee State for a living. "But we may surprise them again just as we did last year."

For one thing, Temple is slightly suspicious of some of the Russian claims.

"In last year's meet, the Russians were bragging that their sprinters could do the 100 meters in 11.3 (which would equal the world record), and yet our Barbara Jones won the event in 11.6."

Sets Record
Sonny Strupp, South Plainfield, N. J., hit the headlines by establishing an all-time 10-lap record — of 4 minutes, 49.9 seconds. The old record was held by Ken Wismer of Riegelsville, Pa.

Strupp, among the top point men, is pressing the leaders each week with his fleet R-12. Motor trouble yanked him from the feature event last Sunday.

Apart from Malzahn, Harwi, Tobias and Strupp are the rugged challengers that pour into Nazareth from seven states each Sunday night — Florida, North Carolina, Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

The heat races have been extremely close, with no quarter being given by the drivers as they whip around the track in a 10-lap race. Already this year the heats have had the fans on their feet at the finish on several occasions. Particularly impressive in the heats have been the newcomers.

The Nazareth track, with acres and acres of free parking, will continue its policy of fast events, including a speed-up in back pit operations.

Splits Handicap Into 2 Groups

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Hollywood Park's management Wednesday decided to split the Vanity Handicap for mares and fillies into two divisions Thursday and boosted the gross value from $50,000 to $71,100. Ten candidates were entered in each division of the mile and one-eighth furlong. Conejo Ranch's Honey's Gem, top-weighted at 129 pounds, drew the rail position in the second division, which goes as the seventh race.

If Giants Get In Series New Park Will Be Ready

By F. D. ELDRED
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—If the surprising Giants take the National League pennant, you can bet they'll play their World Series games in the new 42,500-seat Candlestick Park.

This was the word Wednesday from Club President Horace Stoneham's office as the San Francisco team, which nobody figured to be up there, held a skimpy league lead over Milwaukee.

Confident
"We are very confident the new stadium will be ready for the World Series and, possibly, it will be open for our last home stand in September," a club spokesman said. "There is no question, if we get in the World Series, we will play there."

The management, paying relatively little heed at the moment to series talk, is trying to speed the move from the Giants' cramped 22,000-seat Seals Stadium in time for the 18-game home stretch series starting Sept. 2.

They play every team in the league in this windup. Gate receipts might well be fattened by a pennant fight running right up to the end of the season.

The simple economics of the thing have not been overlooked, since the Giants' gate receipts would nearly double for games in the new 16 million dollar stadium rising alongside San Francisco Bay at the southern edge of the city.

May Play Final 18
"I know the boss would like to play the final 18 games at Candlestick Park if he can," said Business Manager Jerry Donovan. "So many more people could see the games."

The World Series opens Wednesday, Sept. 30, with the first two games in the park of the American League champions and the next three at the National League's stadium.

Schoendienst Set For Return
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Second baseman Red Schoendienst — making rapid progress after a bout with tuberculosis — said Tuesday he'll begin his "spring practice" late in August and rejoin the Milwaukee Braves in September.

Temple said. "They were talking about their broad jumpers doing 20-3 and 20-4. They won the broad jump, all right, but it was 19.6."

Opens Defense Of Swim Laurels
REDDING, Calif. (AP)—California teen-ager Sylvia Ruuska, who holds a dozen American long-course swimming records, opens defense of her laurels in Thursday's 1,500-meter race in the national AAU women's championships. The 16-year-old from Berkeley rates is favored to again capture the crown in the inaugural event of the four-day meet at Lake Redding Park here.

Springs In Heels 'Helps' Jumper
MOSCOW (AP)—A little known Russian track athlete high jumped 6 feet, 9 inches, then cleared 6-10 1/5 before the judges became curious and discovered springs attached to his heels. The Russian sports newspaper, Soviet Sport, told the story Wednesday. It identified the athlete as Vasily Khoroshilov of Rostov. It did not describe how the springs were attached nor how they operated.

'The Reluctant Debutante'

Comedy At Bushkill's Playhouse

By David Ottaway
BUSHKILL. — The Bushkill Playhouse troupe this week presents "The Reluctant Debutante," a British comedy by William Douglas Home.

The play concerns a country girl, who reluctantly comes to London to make her debut on the social circuit, an unconcerned father and a disconcerted mother.

It is a fast fling through the English social world depicting its intrigues, shortcomings and ultimately its uselessness.

There is the Mother too, fully devoted to her daughter's success, the Father ruefully committed to a financial fiasco, and the daughter whose country simplicity and directness finds the English upper crust tough to cut and downright boring.

Structurally it is a comedy of English manners, mores and character. The focal point is social success around which a world of its own revolves. The characters' actions and reactions are largely in response to this theme.

The point of the play is to expose personality; to show that what people seem to be is not necessarily what they are. In this connection the two suitors of Jane, David Bullock and David Hoylake-Johnson, become the main points of interest.

Much of the comedy to an American audience is the English way of doing and saying things. The Bushkill players have accented the English clichés and catch-phrases but have dropped the accent otherwise. In effect, this adds comedy where I doubt it was intended.

It seemed to me that love as an institution-courting and all that goes with it — does battle with love as a spontaneous, primitive force. David Bullock represents the former type and David Hoylake-Johnson the latter.

The play is not complex and has little depth. Its success or failure depends largely on the actors. The Bushkill players have produced a creditable performance of the show but they have their ups and downs. Opening night slips and mistimed lines were partly responsible for the uneven performance.

F. William Miller, director and the father Jimmy Broadbent, is a delight to watch. His actions are spontaneous and he portrays the ripping English father with skill. With a variety of expressions, he controls each one expertly and often is hilarious because of them alone.

Playing the meddler, neurotic mother is Mildred du Lany. Compared to Miller her actions are forced and overplayed. She loses her effect in essential moments because of this.

Jane, the harassed and bored debutante, is beautifully portrayed by Anna Steele. She seems naturally fit for the role and plays it to the hilt. Her one fault is that while she is all that an American debutante could be, I am not convinced she is all that the English one would be.

Dale Shilde is in his initial performance at the playhouse as he plays David Bullock, the stuffy and double-faced suitor. From hair cut to costume he is really fitted out and he handles the part well.

The supposed loose moraled suitor, David Hoylake-Johnson, is Sid Gorielick. A victim of gossip and circumstance, David is finally accepted on becoming a duke, and proving his innocence to the father. Gorielick does a good job but I think he portrays the slick, swave professional type better and more naturally.

Marjorie Nichols as Mable is effective as the gossip and conspiring neighbor of Sheila Broadbent and Beverlee Galli, although she has a minor part as Mable's daughter, plays the part of a giggling adolescent girl wonderfully. She is fun to watch even when other are carrying the ball of conversation because she is always acting her rôle and putting on a meaningful expression.

The play has a slow start and halters in several spots. But a good ending makes it worthwhile to see.

It is always interesting to see what Darwin Reid Payne, designer for the playhouse, has done in each play. This weeks setting was well done but those in the past have been better.

Fred Edwards, County Schools To Lose $68,500

S. Sterling, Succumbs

MONROE County Schools will lose an estimated $68,500 in state reimbursements for supplemental appropriations and rental and transportation subsidies, according to a report released by the State School Directors Assn.

John C. Litts, county superintendent of schools, was not available for comment, and Walter Sebring, assistant superintendent, said he had not received any word of the report yet.

Third and fourth class school districts will lose about seven million dollars in the next two years, P. V. Van Ness, the association's director said after the association broke down the recent findings of the State Tax Equalization Board.

The school directors' release simply said the decreases or increases in the subsidy payments are "the result of certain changes in the market valuations of these districts."

Most of the gains will be registered by districts which have a real market value well above the per pupil average for the state.

The result of the revisions in market valuations by the tax equalization board — the first comprehensive ones since 1952 — is that rich school districts will get richer and poorer ones will get poorer. Monroe County's districts are all third and fourth class, and therefore poorer.

The tax equalization board was created for the purpose of bringing equity to the distribution of state subsidies.

Bucks County stands to gain $446,200 during the two-year period, but other neighboring counties will lose these estimated amounts: Berks, $22,100, Carbon $78,400, Lehigh, $583,000, Northampton $646,500.

Frank A. Leidich, Lehigh County superintendent, said his calculations indicate the county will lose closer to one million dollars over two years.

The Daily Investor

Time Issue Important

By William A. Doyle
International Investment
Analyst

Q. The other day I called my broker at one or two minutes before 10 a.m. and asked him for a quotation on a stock I owned. The stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange and he said it closed the previous day at 9 1/2 ($9.75) bid, 10 ($10) asked. I ordered him to sell 100 shares at the best price he could get.

The following day I received my confirmation statement, showing that I had sold the 100 shares at 9 1/2. Yet, on the day of the sale, the stock opened at 9 1/2. Its low for the day was 9 1/2. Shouldn't I have received the opening price? A. Maybe you should have.

If you placed your sell order in time for it to reach the floor of the exchange before the first transaction in the stock on that day, you should have received the opening price.

But, if your order was not placed in time to be included in the opening sale, it was naturally handled later on.

By making your phone call just a minute or two before 10 a.m. (the time trading starts on the exchange) it is very possible that you didn't give your broker enough time to transmit your order to the floor of the exchange.

By placing your order five or 10 minutes earlier, you would have been certain that your order should have been executed as part of the opening.

William A. Doyle, International Investment Analyst, is shown in the accompanying photograph. He is a member of the New York Stock Exchange and has been active in the market for many years.

600 County Farmers Earn $2,934,000

(Record Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG — Monroe County's 600 farmers last year received cash receipts from the sale of their products totaling $2,934,000, the State Department of Agriculture said yesterday.

Biggest single income-producer during the year, a check by The Daily Record with the department showed, turned out to be poultry and poultry products which brought income totaling $956,000 for Monroe farmers.

Dairy Products

Next in line insofar as cash receipts were concerned was dairy products which provided a gross income for farmers of the county of $800,000.

Other top cash producers on the farm front in the county during the year included field crops and vegetables, $567,000; horticultural specialties, $349,000; livestock and livestock products, $238,000; forest products, $13,000; and fruits and nuts, $11,000.

Perhaps reflecting the independence of Monroe County farmers is the fact that during the year government payments to farmers of the county stood at $94,688—in contrast to $107,379.904 paid out in all of Pennsylvania.

minute of the day, the brokerage firm is required to take both orders to the floor of the exchange for execution.

In such a case, the brokerage firm would know the names of the buyer and seller. That may have been the situation your customer's man was talking about. Even so, he's not supposed to. Broker's ethics prohibit that kind of running off at the lip.

In today's column we have two instances in which people have some doubts about their brokers' activities. These and cases of similar nature should be taken to the Department of Member Firms, New York Stock Exchange 11 Wall Street, New York City.

The exchange wants to know about any infractions or alleged infractions of its rules by member firms.

Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.

Battle Against Integration Shaping Up

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—An all-out battle against any school integration in Little Rock is shaping up.

The segregationist Citizens Council said it will do everything in its power to block racial-mixing in the public schools.

Amis Guthridge, an attorney for the council and one of its official spokesmen, said the people of Little Rock will never accept integration in any form.

The Little Rock School Board is under a federal court order to integrate. It plans to open public high schools in September.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed four high schools against integration last Fall but recently a federal court threw out the state school-closing law he used. Guthridge said the Citizens Council would not fight integration in the courts. He said the council would use "action," but declined to spell out what he meant.

He did say, in reply to a question, that the campaign might encompass public protest rallies.

Anything the council does will be legal, Guthridge said in an interview.

Severud To Speak At Art Center

SPEAKING at the Pocono Art Center in the Indian Queen Hotel on Saturday at 8 p.m. will be the world renowned consulting engineer, Fred N. Severud.

Topic of his discussion will be "New Horizons in Structures" concerning the latest discoveries and techniques in building.

Severud is the senior partner of Elstad-Severud-Krueger, of New York City. He received his civil engineering degree from the Norwegian Institute of Technology in Trondheim and came to America in 1924.

Severud recently announced that he is willing to design a permanent Art Center building for the Stroudsburgs if proper financial backing from area citizens is received.

Many Buildings
Among the many buildings he has been the consulting engineer for are Berlin Congress Hall in Berlin, Germany, Livestock Judging Pavilion at Raleigh, N.C. and the recently constructed David S. Ingalls Hockey Rink for the Yale University in New Haven, Conn.

His engineering firm specializes in industrial and public structures as well as television and theatre buildings.

Severud lectures regularly at colleges throughout the nation and has written many magazine articles.

The Livestock Pavilion in Raleigh has been called "a spectacular testimony to architect-engineer collaboration."

He is interested in the economics and the esthetics of construction and is foremost among engineers in the use of pre-stressed-concrete construction.

Severud lives at Gap View Drive, East Stroudsburg. The public is invited to hear him speak.

Underground Water
NEBRASKA is believed to have the largest underground water supply of any state in the nation.
